HOTEL CARS.

The Triumph of Art.

To be always in advance with everything that tends to the safety and comfort of its patrons is the policy of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway. Its new cars, which are the latest in the country, run between Chicago and Omaha a line of the world-renowned Pullman Hotel cars. These are built on wheels, and called a dining-car, that is attached to a train for a few miles and is then "set off" and runs on its own account as a Pullman Hotel car, that runs through with the balance of the train, and in them you get luxurious drawing-rooms, and have your meals without leaving your car.

The kitchens of these cars are so arranged that no odors from the cooking parts can possibly penetrate the berths. No passenger can tell how particular he or she may be, can have any cause to make objections to this score.

These celebrated cars are run over the Chicago & Northwestern Railway only between Chicago and Council Bluffs. All passengers for Council Bluffs, Sioux City, Yankton, Omaha, Denver, Bell Lake City, San Francisco, or other Far-West points, who desire to travel over the shortest and best road, and who wish to have the full value of their money, should try these new palatial cars.

West-bound they leave Chicago from the Wells Street Depot of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway at 10:30 a.m., and reach Omaha at 9:30 the next day. East-bound they leave Council Bluffs daily at 5:30 p.m., and reach Chicago next day at 3:30 p.m.

By that means they would, on the one hand, be able to keep silver steady and on the other, to prevent the Government from doing what it was utterly unnecessary to do.

He pointed out that bills sold here by the Indian Government for all kinds of supplies were in this unfortunate position, if they forced their silver upon the market which was at a high rate. The persons who received the same were high Turkish persons, including the Sultan of Turkey. The Government, in consequence of his remonstrances, repudiated, and purged, that they not be sent to him, and so he remained.

The Parliament, merely as a matter of legislation and as a complement to the Constitution, which provides for the protection of a bill of rights, in certain circumstances, proposed a bill for Parliament embodying the regulations to be observed in such a case. This bill, however, has not passed, the Senate curiously enough having shown itself more advanced in this matter than either the House or the House of Commons, and the Constitution as to restrict the Government's power of proclaiming martial law. The bill has been introduced into the Parliament, but not yet passed or divided; but, if not, the Government will exercise its right, in such cases, to issue a proclamation of martial law.

London, June 22.—It is understood that the Foreign Office has received a communication from Queen Victoria, and that he will be received by her shortly.

GEN. GRANT AT THE OPERA.

LOWDON, June 22.—A special performance at the Royal Italian Opera was given in honor of Gen. Grant, Mrs. Grant, and Gen. Banks, received at half past seven. The audience was moderately large, most of the press, and also some high Turkish persons, including the Sultan of Turkey. The Foreign Office, in consequence of his remonstrances, repudiated, and purged, that they not be sent to him, and so he remained.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., June 22.—A Winnebago press dispatch says Gov. Brayton, of Idaho, received a telegram from the Chamber of Deputies, which said that the members had voted to make martial law, and that the members asked the President whether he had any authority to inform the members that the official paper had no such power.

After commenting on the nature of this act, the President said that he could not immediately recollect the circumstances which immediately preceded it, and at all events, precipitated it, and that he had no intention of breaking up the Chamber of Deputies, which was the case.

MORE CARDINALS.
Special Dispatch to The Tribune.

ROMA, June 22.—At a council held at the Vatican, the Pope raised Mgr. Kholoditzky, Archbishop of Agde; Mgr. Katchev, Archbishop of Vienna, and Mgr. Harrochi, Archbishop of Bologna, to the dignity of Cardinals. Several Bishops were also nominated.

THE VATICAN AND THE CRIMINAL.

ROMA, June 22.—By one of those strange coincidences which involuntarily impress one as possessing a deeper significance than mere chance could give, the 50th anniversary of Pius IX's election to the papacy was celebrated yesterday in the Vatican, while the President of the Chamber of Deputies, which was the case, was absent.

The Pope, however, suggested that the members of the Chamber of Deputies, which was the case, had not been particularly named, as conspicuous for his absence.

The order of the day was the discussion of the provisional municipal law, which, though subject to the great majority of the Deputies, was not, without any further action, confirmed.

There was, however, a small majority of the members of the Chamber of Deputies, which was the case, being preoccupied with the report of an intended demonstration on the part of the people, presented by the members of the Chamber of Deputies.

After a short time it was heard a slight hubbub outside the building, which was evidently want to enter, but who were opposed and even driven back by the sentries, who vociferated "No entry." The President, who was the case, had to go to the window, the President opened the door to her seat, and addressing the crowd, "We have only to wait for the arrival of the King, and, with a few of the great (the latter had, however, been removed), the Deputies, which was the case, have fallen upon the same date."

The subjects of the Sovereign Pontiff of the Catholic world have celebrated the 50th anniversary of their election to the papacy with an almost uniform silence in censures. Most of the accusations have been repeated, but represents the Pope's popularity with the people, and unceasingly attacks the Pope, and the Chamber of Deputies, which was the case, in the appointment of a deputation of five, who, on entering the Ottoman House of Representatives, were received with a unanimous ovation, and, as every one was preoccupied with the report of an intended demonstration on the part of the people, presented by the members of the Chamber of Deputies.

Most of the accusations have been repeated, but represents the Pope's popularity with the people, and unceasingly attacks the Pope, and the Chamber of Deputies, which was the case, in the appointment of a deputation of five, who, on entering the Ottoman House of Representatives, were received with a unanimous ovation, and, as every one was preoccupied with the report of an intended demonstration on the part of the people, presented by the members of the Chamber of Deputies.

THE VATICAN AND THE CRIMINAL.

ROMA, June 22.—By one of those strange coincidences which involuntarily impress one as possessing a deeper significance than mere chance could give, the 50th anniversary of Pius IX's election to the papacy was celebrated yesterday in the Vatican, while the President of the Chamber of Deputies, which was the case, was absent.

The Pope, however, suggested that the members of the Chamber of Deputies, which was the case, had not been particularly named, as conspicuous for his absence.

The order of the day was the discussion of the provisional municipal law, which, though subject to the great majority of the Deputies, was not, without any further action, confirmed.

There was, however, a small majority of the members of the Chamber of Deputies, which was the case, being preoccupied with the report of an intended demonstration on the part of the people, presented by the members of the Chamber of Deputies.

After a short time it was heard a slight hubbub outside the building, which was evidently want to enter, but who were opposed and even driven back by the sentries, who vociferated "No entry." The President, who was the case, had to go to the window, the President opened the door to her seat, and addressing the crowd, "We have only to wait for the arrival of the King, and, with a few of the great (the latter had, however, been removed), the Deputies, which was the case, have fallen upon the same date."

The subjects of the Sovereign Pontiff of the Catholic world have celebrated the 50th anniversary of their election to the papacy with an almost uniform silence in censures. Most of the accusations have been repeated, but represents the Pope's popularity with the people, and unceasingly attacks the Pope, and the Chamber of Deputies, which was the case, in the appointment of a deputation of five, who, on entering the Ottoman House of Representatives, were received with a unanimous ovation, and, as every one was preoccupied with the report of an intended demonstration on the part of the people, presented by the members of the Chamber of Deputies.

CHICAGO MARKET SUMMARY.

The Chicago produce market was irregular yesterday, stronger on breadstuffs, and weak on provisions. Meats were closed at $2.00 per lb. for August. Lamb closed at $2.10 per lb. for August. Beef at $2.00 per lb. for August. Mutton at $1.80 per lb. for August. Meats were easier, at 45¢ per lb. loose shoulders and 65¢ for short ribs. Highways were higher, at $1.05 per gallon. Lake freight rates, at 13¢ per ton per mile, were higher, at 14¢ per ton per mile. West coast cattle were higher, at $1.40¢ per lb. cash and $1.44¢ for July. Cattle closed steady, at 36¢ cash and 35¢ for July. Hogs were steady, at 36¢ cash and 35¢ for July. Sheep were lower, at 22¢. 45¢. 75. One hundred dollars in gold would buy 100.50 in hawks at the close.

Greeks at the New York Stock Exchange yesterday closed at 94.

Gen. McArthur, having had the facts about that $35,000 yanked out of him like a tooth, says he wants it understood he has nothing to conceal.

The vote in the French Senate on the question of concurring in MacMahon's request for a dissolution of the Assembly stood 150 for and 130 against. The next vote will be at the polls by the people.

SADMEN answers the suit brought against him for back taxes, that the Government having accepted what he was willing to pay, can't get any more. It is a little hard to make a man support a Government that he can't beat.

Another pitiful appeal has been sent to Washington from Idaho, for arms to protect the people against the bloodthirsty Redskins. To which the inexorable Secretary calmly replies: "Five hundred guns of the old pattern. Law don't allow any more."

Confidential to Contractor HINDELLA, intended for secretings, etc.—FRANK A. BRADMAN, a Democratic politician of Wilkes-Barre (and probably a contractor), has been sentenced to four years' solitary confinement for destroying vouchers and books and the like.

It was only after he agreed to be adrifted with Box INGRESSOR that Rockford would consent to hear WADE JEFFERSON at the Winnebago County Fair. JEFFERSON's next application for permission to speak there will be accompanied by BEN BUTLER's pledge to be present.

Regarding the amount of loss at the St. John conflagration the estimates differ largely. In one report the total insurance is stated $10,000,000, and this, it is said, will not cover more than one-third of the loss. An extensive item of destruction hitherto overlooked is that of dock and wharf property, which will greatly swell the aggregate excess of loss over insurance.

The order which divorces Federal officers from active participation in party politics will be issued by the President before leaving for Boston on Monday next. It will affect many gentlemen occupying prominent posts in the public service, and present to these, as well as to the obscure village Postmaster, the alternative of abstaining from the delights of the caucus, the convention, and the committee, or of withdrawal from Government employ. Such is the patriotism of politicians in general that it is safe to predict a wholesale resignation—of the impeded political positions, and to the necessity of devoting their entire attention to the duties of their Government offices. All persons who look for a widespread vacation of the offices on account of the political excitement should take place before evil communications corrode the better nature and render him unfit for the happy hunting-ground.

Upon the adjournment of the Missouri Legislature, some years ago, one of the clerks was discovered sitting on the steps of the State-House, sobbing bitterly. In answer to a sympathetic inquiry as to the cause of his grief, he replied that there were $2.40 left in the Treasury, and no way to get it. Mr. HINDELLA has discovered that there are $63,000 to the credit of the Court-House Fund, and yesterday the County Board allowed him $31,205.

If there are anything necessary to explode the idea that the gentle savage goes armed with a Bible stuck in his pantaloons labeled "Read and return," as they are on the palace cars, the news from Idaho would finish the job. At State Creek a number of whites are posted in an inconspicuous stockade fort, and with them are a number of women and children, widows and orphans of mingled men. Around this reast a band of howling devils are congregated, their baleful anger for the scalps of the males, and their eyes gleaming as they think of the women within. No success is at hand. The place and the people are doomed, and from the blood-soaked sod of the prairie comes a shriek for aid. A few volunteers have been dispatched from different points, but they are powerless in the hands of the better-armed and better mounted Indians. Northern Idaho is in abject terror to-day. There is no promise of relief for her. The successes of the Nez Perces, and the spoils they now show will attract other tribes to share in the plunder, and, unless Providence shall interfere, there will soon be an uprising against which the legal 500 rusty guns will not avail, and which may end as disastrously as did one certain campaign against the redskins not a great while ago.

Very complete reports from the various counties of Iowa are printed in our columns to-day, giving an account of the condition and prospects of the crops. Corn is uniformly backward, but the small grains promise bountifully, and seem to be secure from all reasonable chance of damage. From other points in the Northwest the farmers send jubilant notes, while the general report for June of the Department of Agriculture indicates a marked increase in wheat over previous years.

WASHINGTON.

A Great Victory Scored Yesterday for Civil-Service Reform.

The Retention of Miss Sweet at Chicago Determined Upon.

Representative Aldrich Entitled to High Commendation.

A Highly-Important Executive Order Soon to Be Issued.

Political Strikers and Blowers Must Not Hold Office.

Information Concerning Multifarious Positions in the Gift of the President.

MISS SWEET.

A VICTORY FOR CIVIL-SERVICE REFORM.

Special Dispatch to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—Secretary Schurz has informed the President that he will not be retained in his present position, and that the office would be left to another.

John L. Thomas was appointed Collector of the port of Baltimore, in place of Edward Wilkins.

COMMISSIONS SIGNED.

Washington, D. C., June 22.—The President today signed the commissions of Postmaster, Auditor General Agent at Indianapolis; also George Brown Patterson, Attorney of the United States of Pennsylvania, and John W. Bailey, Postmaster at Kansas City, Mo.

PROMOTED.

William Cochran, Captain, U. S. Naval Officer at the port of Baltimore, was today promoted to the rank of Lieutenant. The latter had been so confident that he was to be retained as Collector that he went home, thinking there was no longer any necessity of watching it. It is also discovered that the Commissioner of Pensions, Renshaw, was himself so certain of the appointment of Jesse Moore that

HELD IN RESERVE.

Special Dispatch to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—The Presidential party, which will leave Monday for Boston, will consist of thirteen. The party will be composed of the President and his family, Schurz and his two daughters, Secretary Evans, Attorney-General Davis, and Secy. of Ohio, Hinman, to the State, Dickenson, and his wife.

COMPETITIVE.

The appointment of Colander J. Lewis as Assistant Paymaster in the navy is the result of competitive examination held in this city, at which twenty-one applicants were examined.

TO-DAY, evidently from some benighted individual, who has not read the late letters of Judge Key: "I do not want to be Postmaster here. We don't want a Postmaster here." Chairman Republican Central Committee.

Judge present the Postmaster-General is not taking orders from Chairman of political committee.

THIS SETTLES IT.

The colored Congressmen whose mission as Intermediates to the Cabinet for the President has withheld, threatens that, unless he obtains a good Federal office, he will go over to the Democratic party.

He is out of the way, the Republican party in North Carolina.

THE PENSION AGENCIES.

To the Western Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—Today decided by the President and Secretary Schurz that the consolidated Pension Agency for the State of Illinois will be located at Chicago, and that Miss May Sweet shall be retained in that city. It also decided to retain all Agents who are now in office in the various cities of the Western Pension Agency, except those at Denver, at the Indianapolis (Ind.) Agency, whose commission has expired, and who will be superseded by Gen. G. H. Renshaw.

SECRETARY SCHURZ.

From the first, he has been an earnest friend of the President, and has done his best to identify himself with Miss Sweet's record.

The fact that the Rev. Jesse Moore is a non-resident at the place where Miss Sweet is located, and that he is not a member of the church, has been hostile to the Chicago Agent, because she was a woman, and it is said by those who claim to know him, that he permitted the Agent to remain in his church.

He is an atheist, and the Director of the church in favor of locating the office of Springfield. Hearty, within the last few days, however, recognizing that Miss Sweet stood first in any Civil-Service contest, joined with Secretary Evans in requesting the location of the office of Chicago and the removal of Miss Sweet.

Special Correspondence of The Tribune.

Paris, France, June 21.—I just had a long conference with a leading member of the French Parliament, M. A. G., who is Deputy for the Department of the D., and a relation of the President of the Chamber. As it was of an especially interesting nature, having entirely reference to the grave political events of the last few weeks, with M. G.'s known support of the Republicans, I will not weary many of it. It may be well to remark that, besides being, as I have already mentioned, a relative of the President of the Chamber, M. A. G. is the chief of a group of Republicans professing opinions very similar to those of Gambetta. He is a lawyer and probably as well acquainted with the ins and outs of politics as any one in France, if not better. His utterances on public questions have thus a peculiar weight, and may be taken as a faithful record of the ideas of the most important section of his party.

Without wasting time in desultory talk, when I called upon M. G., I immediately approached the chief objects of my visit. As nearly as possible this was the substance of our conversation:

"Correspondent—'I have taken the liberty of calling on you one or two questions with regard to the present crisis. The French people have been greatly lashed by the reported intentions of M. Thiers, and himself a candidate for the Presidency of the Republic, in the unlikely event of Marshal MacMahon's resigning. Could you inform me what amount of truth there is in these reports?'

"Deputé—'At present it is premature to discuss politics seriously. You may, however, be sure that M. Gambetta has fully determined, from motives of policy, to win over his own candidate, M. Thiers' name has been put forward with intent by the Republicans; but, as far as I can learn, he has been elected by the majority of the people of Paris and the surrounding districts. As far as I can see, he must be a very unscrupulous young man if he thinks that, in this way, he will forge the advantage to those interests that union with him. His friends, however, are not to be despised.'

"Correspondent—'What do you think of M. Thiers, and, of course, so great that it was found strategical by the Republicans to nominate him? You will have noticed, notwithstanding, that other persons have been mentioned as possible successors to the Maréchal. I refer more particularly to M. Jules Grey.'

"Correspondent—'Do you think that M. Grey's candidature will have the support of the Chamber?'—

"Deputé—'It is true that M. Thiers is ill, as the papers say.'

"Correspondent—'Is he in excellent health?'

"Deputé—'What do you think of Gen. Chanzy's chance, and of Gen. Ladrillière's?'

"Deputé—'Gen. Chanzy has none at all. Though he professes to belong to the Left-Center, he is not safe, and would not get four Republican votes. Nationalists, however, are not to be despised; they themselves for election, it would be nominees of the Monarchists, and would, of course, not succeed.'
